Timothy Seaman's Music Lessons at his House: Hammered Dulcimer (All levels); Flute, Whistle, Folk Guitar, Mountain Dulcimer, Psaltery (Beginner to Advanced Beginner levels)

Lessons on weekdays: any open time from 9 am to 8 pm. (Daytimes are best.)

Flexible scheduling: lessons can be a week apart, or two weeks, or more.

Personalized Plan: tailored according to the goals and needs of the student. Lesson length may be scheduled for a half hour, an hour or even two hours when distance or other factors are a consideration.

First Lesson Bonus Time: at least 15 minutes extra at the first lesson to make sure plenty of material is covered.

Topics: Each instrument has its own introductory methods with certain books and videos I recommend. I carry two hammered dulcimer guides for sale, providing two different approaches that can be studied simultaneously to enhance student skills and expand options.

Rates: $20 per half hour; $40 per hour; etc.

These are my specialties that I want to communicate additionally to all students:

- 1) Musicality --- Discover how to be expressive with music in its phrasing and voicing --- to make your instrument sing!
- 2) Scale and chord theory --- Learn the basics of how music is built and how a melody, chords, and rhythm relate to that!
- 3) Arrangement, improvisation, and composition --- I want to show you how easy and rewarding it really is to create your own music!

Rental dulcimers: I have small, good quality hammered dulcimers for rent if needed.

I welcome phone calls or e-mail if you'd like to consider a lesson or more on hammered dulcimer, flute, whistle, mountain dulcimer, bowed psaltery, or guitar. Feel free to ask lots of questions!
